

Advocacy Counseling Program Fact Sheet

WHAT: A WADT Advocacy Counseling Program provides services to victims of crime, specializing in sexual abuse and domestic violence.

WHO: Victims of crime complete a screening and assessment to determine eligibility for services. Services are provided at no cost to the client by A WADT counselor.

WHEN: Appointment times vary by site, but are generally available Monday through Thursday with some evening and weekend appointments available.

HOW: Each of the Centers has a Master's level Counselor who provides short-term crisis counseling and referrals for step-up therapy services. The purpose of the crisis counseling is to stabilize the client, develop a support network, and increase levels of functioning.

WHO: Anyone who is a victim of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking in need of assistance
